

【Important Announcement】 New KOSMOS is coming in September

From September 2019, Keio and Waseda University Libraries will be using a new library system together aiming to improve the library services.

■ Features of the new system

1. New KOSMOS is the cloud-based SaaS system. 1,800 academic libraries in 41 countries have already adopted the same system. New KOSMOS will enable its users to keep up with the rapidly changing information technology and scholarly communication.
2. You can search and find the books and journals in both Keio and Waseda University libraries. You can also search for more academic information such as peer-reviewed journal articles which Keio is subscribing to and freely available contents.

■ Schedule and changes in services

The libraries have to suspend the current system and limit the services for the system and data migration in August. The New KOSMOS will be launched in September along with the new circulation rules.

1. In August, the libraries may be closed, or open with limited services.
2. The URL and interface of KOSMOS will change in September.
3. We will simplify and unify the current loan rules.
